lent. In addition to the magnitude of these sums, is that the amount has to steadily rise year by year from £244,411 in 1970 to £559,950 in 1975, or an increase of twice these two years of £215,539. Should this rate of increase be maintained until by the year 1981 one can say that by paying £593,000—say a million sterling—a year in compensation for accidents arising mainly, as is admitted, from the necessity of running a mixed traffic of passengers and goods on the same roads, the Government have the potential to save £2 million a year. It is a staggered harvest on what the problem of a road death to some and the pain of broken limbs and minor injuries to others, without concealing up as well the life-long grief brought home to countless families by the sudden death of a parent or child.

And yet the rate of the new law is not to blame for direness or officials, or to propose any way of even speedily modifying these dreadful results. Human foresight and ingenuity have been taxed to the utmost; but so long as we have to deal with fallible men, so long shall we have the cruel repetition of signals sent wrong or overheard, and of the same signals sent in the wrong way or not sent at all, and of the same sent in the wrong way or not sent at all.

There is cut real remote, and one alone, in the ever-increasing demands on the carrying capacity of the roads through the city. The way, and that is in serious conflict between the passenger's fast traffic and the goods comparatively slow and more untidily trains. I pointed out in the said letter some years ago, and with the approval of friends well versed in railway finance and management, how this might be accomprofit to the Government, especially in view of the ultimate absorption, possibly, by the State of the railways as of the telegraphs. It is always easy to prophesy after events, but had the money sent even after 1870 to Honduras, Paraguay, Uruguay, Peru, Turkey, and Egypt, been applied at home in ways so imprudently dissipated as in the case of the savings in pocket and feelings to the British public?

Money since I last wrote has fallen most markedly in price, and in the utter cessation of investments abroad, and in the limitation of trade and enterprise in London, Dec. 25.

Nothing like the above "A Railway Director" writes to The Times.
"I read Barthwick's proposal, in The Times of Friday, to separate the passenger train traffic from the goods traffic."

slow traffic of railways (obviously by providing a separate rail or rails for the latter) involves an operation of great magnitude and cost, and requiring a corresponding period of time. I submit, further, that it is not necessary to make any such drastic change, but only shows that they occur almost exclusively between fast and slow trains, but that they happen, while the latter are in the act of shunting, at stations—an operation which occupies a considerable proportion of the whole time of a goods-train journey. These accidents, therefore, might be avoided by the smaller expenditure of capital, time, and trouble, by the adoption of a more conservative, but still safe, method of running.

the use of goods trains, the direct line being reserved for the exclusive use of the passenger traffic. I believe this arrangement to be desirable and practicable, under conditions in which I need not now refer. There is no need for doubling the lines through or near London, but the passenger traffic, in order to keep the goods traffic free, must be kept apart, but the passenger traffic, because of its great importance, must be kept free from the goods traffic. In order to keep the passenger traffic free from the goods traffic, it becomes necessary to double, triple, and even to quadruple the works.

On Monday morning the Queen's New Year's gifts to the poor of the parishes of St. John's, New Windsor, Holy Trinity, and Chewer, were publicly distributed in the riding school of the Royal Mews at Windsor. The arrangements were judiciously made for the clergy and laity of the different parishes. The following were the gifts allotted to the parish of New Windsor:—The first class (thirty holders) received 7 lbs. of beef and 3 cwt. of coal; the second class, 6 lbs. of beef and 2½ cwt. of coal; the third class, 4 lbs. of beef

A SUMPTUOUS PASTORAL

The Free Church Fraternity of Milwaukee have issued a pastoral address on the subject of intemperason. After referring to the provinance of the evil, they say that whatever merit was due to temperance societies and organizations which had the promotion of temperance as their direct aim—did they not vary much, if not wholly, from the nature of the sin? It had been the means of accomplishing—there could be no adequate safety for the sober, no secure and permanent deliverance from the drunkard, apart from the grace of God. After expressing disapproval of the practice of presenting intemperate drinks as articles of exchange in the ordinary course of business, they said that the only safe and sound method was to have the liquor sold by the name of "malt and water."

horgan making over strong drink, they say that they cannot "contemplate without alarm the rapid depopulation of places of theatrical amusement in this city, and the fact that letters patent have been granted, to His Majesty's Government, regarding the right to sell intoxicating drinks, to common use, and that theatres opened in this city. We are persuaded, too, the lavish and expensive display of wines, of a dangerously seductive character, at the feasts and entertainments of the rich, must prove a source to injury. A strong law, extending to the sale of all such articles, is, as intimated by some of our friends, has grown till not infrequently it has attained all the power of an exterminating pestilence. Hence, while we do not frown upon the social courtesies of life, we would beg that a reform be instituted in these particulars, and that all such social gatherings be so regulated as to prevent the possibility of a stumbling block being put in a brother's way."

In conclusion, the Presbytery entreat young men and women, especially at this season, to discourage all practices inconsistent with sobriety.

ANOTHER AMERICAN BANK ROBBERY.

A telegram from Cincinnati to New York announces that a bank robbery was perpetrated at Somerset, Perry County, on the 12th ult. The banking house of William A. Rouse, interested by four crooked sons, over 10,000 dollars were taken. The bank is a two-story brick building, situated in a prominent part of the town, the second story being occupied as a dwelling by the Rouse family.

About one o'clock in the morning Mr. Heam was suddenly aroused by two masked men, one on either side, who seized his wrists, while the other stood at the head of the bed with a revolver. Mr. Heam refused to accompany any three of them to the bank; the fourth remained to prevent Mrs. Foster from giving an alarm. On removing the yards Mr. Heam was ordered to unlock the door, which he did, and the thieves took therefrom 10,500 dollars, leaving gold and silver coins, bonds, etc., untouched. Mr. Heam was then threatened with a chair; the robbers who watched Mrs. Heam called out, and the party fled. Mr. Heam was not released until nearly daylight, his wife expecting to be killed if she gave the alarm. It is supposed that one of the robbers gained an entrance to the house in the early evening, and afterward admitted his associates, as no doors were locked. Great excitement prevailed at Bonaparte, and bands of men were securing the country for a brace of the robbers.

METROPOLITAN CATTLE MARKET.—MONDAY.

The cattle trade has been quiet and without fresh features. Supplies were about as average. From our own grazing districts receipts of heads were on a moderate scale. The market was rather weak, but prices were well sustained by local demand, and the same was weak, a fall of 10 c. per lb. having occurred. For the best Scotch and orange 60 c. per lb., less tax; for the best Scotch and orange 60 c. per lb., less tax. On the foreign side of the market there was only a moderate supply of beasts. The bulk of the show came from Holland, but there was a few American and some Spanish. Trade was market was only moderately sluggish. For the best breeds the demand was fairly steady, and prices were steady, the Chesapeake-Bays and baited males ranging from $7 to $45, per cwt. Indicators were somewhat irregular in the water calves were quiet, at about late-rates. Pigs and sows, also, and inferior hams, $4 to $6, second quality dried, $6 to $8 1/2; prime hams, $8 to $10; common and inferior hams, $4 to $6; second quality dried, $4 to $6 1/2; prime corns, $10 to $12; common and inferior, $6 to $8; second quality dried, $4 to $6 1/2; prime corns, $12 to $14; 21's prime corns, $10 to $12; 21's, $8 to $10; common and inferior, $6 to $8; 21's, $8 to $10; large hogs, $4 to $6; 24's, $4 to $6; and small porters, $4 to $6. 24's, per 100 to stick the official.

HOPS.

The market presents a holiday appearance, and a few days will probably elapse before business is resumed on any considerable scale. Good hops are scarce, at former values. The foreign markets are reported to be quiet.

LEEDS, November, 1876.

MADAM.—TO-DAY (FRIDAY), and following days, we purpose making our

PRINCIPAL SHOW OF FASHIONS for the Winter Season, when we shall offer the LATEST NOVELTIES in all Departments, especially in the following—

Military, Matinee, Cloth Mantles, Coats, Costume Cloths, Sealskin Pellets, Laces, Gloves, Fur Trimmings, &c., &c.

We would call particular attention to the ECONOMY ADVANTAGE which has taken place in the SILK MARKET during the last three months, in anticipation of which we have bought in the months of May and June a very large quantity of Black and Coloured Chalmers, Gros Grain, and Pout de Soie from the best Lyons manufacturers, whose prices are guaranteed to wear. These goods are now delivered, and we are offering them

AT OLD PRICES, which is considerably below the manufacturers' quotations to-day, and we advise all our friends to make their purchases EARLY, as we shall have to pay at least from 1s. to 3s. per yard more (according to quality), when we go into the market again.

Soliciting an early call and your kind recommendation,

We are, Madam,

Respectfully yours,

considerably reduced.

Besides periodically inspecting the district,

I have also issued notices of various kind, in an endeavour to inform the public of any existing information of the outbreak of any epidemic disease, and have given such advice and directions as I deemed necessary. In addition I have visited the various institutions to health, and have, as far as practicable, had

ROTHWELL SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION

RESULTS OF THE POLL.

The triennial election of members for the Board of the Rothwell School Board took place on Wednesday, the result being as follows:—

For some weeks past committees have been preparing for the campaign, and arranging for the successful election of their respective candidates.

The four members of the old Board were generally accepted and approved by all sides, the only question of the election being the nomination of the new members.

The friends of Mr. Johnson considered it only fair that the vacant seat of Mr. Hall should be filled by his representative while on the other hand, the Liberal Association considered that as expressing the views of a number of working-men, also as a number of the Primitive Methodists, Mr.

James Batty had a right to a seat on the Board.

There were originally nine candidates for the Board, but as Mr. Harrison and Mr.

Nettleton had withdrawn, only seven were present on the day of the election.

Mr. Harrison had also agreed to withdraw his name, but from some cause or other the withdrawal was not made in proper form, and his name appeared on the list, to remain by him, till the night of the election.

The Church of England and the Wesleyan

Churches, both were issued endorsing his withdrawal and setting forth the Vice and Mr. Johnson as the only eligible candidate, but as Mr. Johnson was not present, his name was not on the list.

There were, however, a little of feeling comparatively, and we trust that the Board will work as cordially and successfully as the first one, forgetting all that has been said or done, and resolved to bring about the best possible state of education at present times.

The number of voters having considerably increased, it became necessary to have two polling stations, one at the National

School, and the other at the Board

School, Thistle Gate.

The Church candidates had their committee-room in the Old Hall, the Wesleyan candidate, Mr. Storer's office was at Mr. Storer's office, and the

Although no correct statement can be forwarded of the candidates in voting, the following gives an approximate idea of the results of the election, beginning at the highest and most frequent and descending to the occasional junctions effected.

Probably one-third of the voting paper were marked as two or three each for Messrs. Harrison, Netton and Johnson.

After which followed one vote for Messrs.

Storer and J. Harrison. In the next line we find three given to Mr. Storer, and one each to Messrs. Harrison. Less numerous combinations were given to Mr. Storer, Mr.

Batty, and one or two to Mr. Storer; still fewer votes each for the old Board, Mr.

Storer, and Mr. Harrison. Old papers contained other divisions of voting. Of the plumbers, Mr. James Harrison, Mr. James

Storer, after whom followed Mr. Batty,

Mr. Storer, Mr. Storer, Mr. Storer, Mr.

Storer, and Mr. Storer.

A few minutes before eight o'clock the members were declared in the polling booth.
